HOW TO SELECT the worst intersection in town from a traffic viewpoint seems to us to have all the ingredients for one of those contests conducted for nationally-advertised brands of merchandise.

You know what we mean.

In 25 words or less, the contestant would be asked to complete a sentence such as:

"I THINK BLANK-BLANK INTERSECTION SHOULD BE CONSIDERED THE WORST ONE IN CAMPBELL, BECAUSE..... !

We have several in mind that should be right in the running.

Our problem would be to select the one we despise the most.

Then again we would be limited somewhat in the 25 words we would use for our reasons.

Naturally profanity would not be allowed.

MAY WE ADD hurriedly that traffic signals are not always the panacea for all the traffic evils that exist at some of the intersections.

Some of the little gems that come to mind are already signalized.

One of the shining examples of what we mean is the Campbell Ave-Bascom situation.

To put it another way, when is a through street not a through street? Or how does one make a right turn and still go straight ahead?

We are well aware that there is little that can be done at that particular crossroads that would improve the traffic flow to any extent.

If we did, we would certainly submit it, for we become involved in its intricacies several times daily.

FOR THE uninitiated (there still may be a few around), Campbell Ave. makes a jog at Bascom. Thus, those going through on Campbell Ave., and crossing Bascom first must make a right turn and then a left.

This sometimes becomes a little tricky on a signal change.

A car going west on Campbell Ave., crossing Bascom, generally gets in the direct line of fire of cars going east on Campbell Ave. that are making a left turn onto Bascom.

The situation becomes even more sticky when two lanes of traffic going east on Campbell start making a left turn onto Bascom. (We don't think two lanes are legal because Bascom narrows down after the intersection. But it does happen. We know.)

We are pretty sure that this particular intersection would be high on our negative list.

But there are others you must think are worse.

Bascom-Campbell does emphasize that traffic signals are not always the complete answer for the woes of an intersection.

But, why don't you

A stop and go question for council

Traffic signal site poses problem

Should more than just heavy traffic flow be used for a basis in justifying a traffic signal at an intersection?

That is the question that the City Council is now trying to come up with an answer after last Monday's meeting.

There will be a traffic signal installed at Budd and Winchester avenues within a short time as part of the overall improvement program of Budd Ave. which should alleviate the increasing traffic bottleneck at that intersection, the City Council learned.

But whether a traffic signal will be placed at Winchester and Rincon still remained an "iffy" question after Monday's marathon session of the City Council which lasted until 1:30 a.m.

Among the "ifs" involved was whether the city can find the $8000 needed to cover the cost of the signals.

And IF the money can be found should it be used for Rincon-Winchester or for other intersections that may be even more critical.

A report by Bill Wren, acting city engineer, had shown that Rincon-Winchester traffic was light in comparison to other spots in town.

To add to the confusion at the crossroads was the accusation by Mrs. Anna Genasci, 116 E. Rincon, that the council had promised in June that the Rincon-Winchester signal would be installed.

MRS. GENASCI

And money was supposedly budgeted for it.

But City Manager Bob Stephens reported that the money had been deleted in the final budget. A number of councilmen expressed surprise that this had been done.

Mrs. Genasci emphasized the dangerous traffic conditions that exist when trying to get onto Winchester from side streets. She maintained it was becoming easier to shop out of town than attempt to cross busy Winchester to get to a store.

She admitted that the signal at Budd would help matters but maintained that the Rincon signal was also neces-

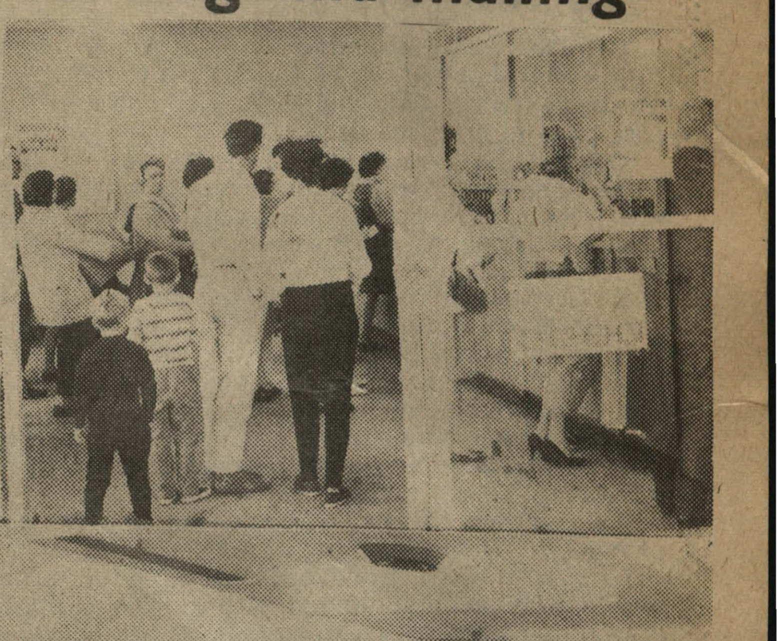
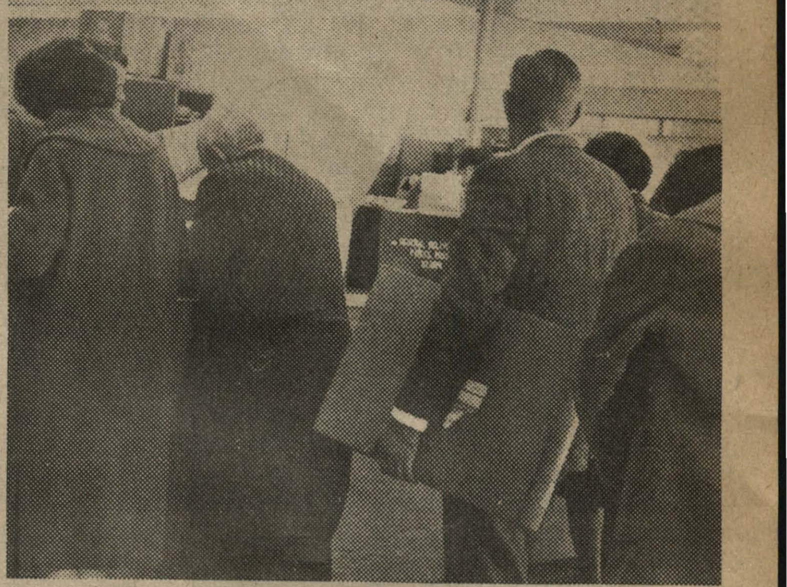
Milling and mailing





BUSY PLACE--Campbell's post office, as the above photos indicate, has been crowded during the past few weeks as the local office is handling the largest Christmas mailing on record, according to Postmaster Jim Hurley. To accommodate the residents, the office has expanded its hours for the Christmas season. It is open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily and this Saturday will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The office will also be open Sunday, Dec. 19, from noon until 4 p.m.

City to get new lighting district

Because the county is getting out of the lighting district business, the city must get into it...and fast.

On Monday, Jan. 3, at 3 p.m. the City Council will hold a public hearing on the proposed take over by the city of the five individual county lighting districts within the city limits.

Final action by the council must be taken that day and mailed to the Board of Equalization before midnight in order that there will be no problems when the city consolidates and assumes the administration of the lighting districts. The city has no choice in the matter, unless it is to turn 'em all off.

In the past the county has levied special taxes for the hundreds of lighting districts in the county. But under recent legislation the county is allowed to consolidate all the lighting districts in the unincorporated areas into one and turn the others over to the cities in which they are located.

For a "White Christmas" in Campbell you have to give 'em a snow job

FROM GREEN TO WHITE--It looks like snow but it's not as cold. That's for sure. In the above photos, Hale Charlton, who is operating the "Charlton Christmas Trees" on a lot at Latimer and Winchester adjacent to the Campbell Shopping Center, becomes a "snow man".

Charlton is pictured "flocking" the trees with "snow" that is made from a wood base and is flame resistant.

Charlton said he had a stock of 1300 trees to start with and about 400 of them would be "snow-covered".

The trees in the lot came from Plumas County. Christmas tree people say that the white trees are becoming increasingly popular with the public. Many households are also getting their trees from the tree plantations in the area where the trees are carefully tended throughout the year. Families often go to the farms and cut their own trees.

Editorial

No longer a dream

Many of us who have advocated the development and beautification of Los Gatos Creek from Vasona through Campbell have been accused of idle dreaming in the past.

Our critics have asserted that it was too late. That there were many other projects much more worthy of support. Recreational areas and beautification programs were luxury items, they maintained.

In effect our critics have told us our dream was for the birds and not for the people.

But in recent months this dream has taken a sort of different hue and the possibilities of making the creek into an outstanding recreational area do not seem as remote as they first appeared. Support for the idea has been cropped up in many quarters.

There are a number of basic reasons for this change.

To begin with, governmental agencies at all levels have been concerned with the loss of open space and public recreational areas. In the State of California in 1964, the electorate voted millions of dollars for state park bonds.

The federal government has provided funds which can be available by grants to local communities on a matching basis in order to insure acquisition and development of public recreational areas.

Public facilities adjacent to water are considered within the highest priority for recreational use. And the demand by the public for water related recreational activities has increased tremendously.

In recent months, the Los Gatos Creek area has been presented as a prime example of how a united effort on the part of federal, state, county, special district and the city government, could insure public access and beautification of an almost ready-made recreational area that has been sort of waiting in the wings for such a joint undertaking.

Much of the creek area is already under public ownership. The Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District has more than 100 acres set aside for percolation ponds. In fact the district has more land than is needed for percolation and some acreage is surplus.

The supervisors have agreed to purchase some of this excess land from the flood control district. The board has applied to the federal government for matching funds for this acquisition.

The district, in the meantime, has agreed to continue its policy in cooperating in making these percolation ponds available, if desired, for boating, etc., similar to the development of Vasona, one of the show-places in the county.

Thus, in one move, the federal, county and a special district seem to have joined together for a common cause.

Although there is state money available for parks, the demands on the funds have been so great that it is doubtful that the state can help at this time in that area.

But Highway 17 skirts the creek area and the highway department apparently is willing to landscape its rights of way. Thus the state enters the picture.

The Santa Clara County Flood Control is designing the course of channel of the creek and this district, too, then is directly involved in overall development.

There is no question that the City of Campbell will cooperate to the fullest in any way the city can lend a hand, for it has been the city that has really been spearheading the project from the beginning.

But city officials long ago realized that the development and beautification of the creek area was out of their league.

It would take the cooperation of all agencies involved, city officials emphasized, if the job was going to be done.

From where we sit, we see that this joint effort may be forthcoming. Sooner than we realized the dream of making the creek into one of the finest recreational areas in the county may become a reality.

Some dreams do come true and then are no longer dreams.

Santa, carolers plan Plaza visits

Santa Claus will be the honored guest at the Campbell Plaza shopping center, corner of Winchester and Budd avenues this coming Saturday, Dec. 18. Santa will make his appearance between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. and again from 2 to 5 p.m.

Other scheduled appearances for the beloved old St. Nick will be on Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 21 and 22 from 12 noon to 3 p.m. and from 5 to 8 p.m. Free treats for the kiddies will be distributed to those who seek Santa's help in relaying messages for Christmas Eve.

Another added feature at the Campbell Plaza will be the traditional songs of Christmas as sung by members of the "Teen Club" who will stroll through the shopping center singing carols Monday through Thursday evenings.

Approximately 16 singers form the "Teen Club" which is sponsored by St. Lucy's Church.

CHRISTMAS PACKAGES mailed from the Campbell post office for sure must be setting some sort of a record this year.

That is, if the traffic jams outside and the line-up at the windows inside can be taken as any criteria.

At least it appears on the surface that there is more activity this year at the local mail establishment than at any recall since we have been around. We intend to verify this later with Postmaster Jim Hurley and his assistant, Dick Adams.

There are times when post office parking spaces are all used up which makes it a little involved. But we noticed that the college parking lot has been getting the overflow for the post office customers.

This works out pretty well, say, on Saturday or late in the afternoon when college classes are at a minimum. But it doesn't help matters too much during the day.

Ordinarily the post office closes at noon on Saturday but will be open this next Saturday afternoon as an accommodation to the residents. So the college lot should help matters then.

AS YOU PROBABLY KNOW, to take care of the increased enrollment at the college temporary classrooms are going to be placed on the parking lot next year, cutting down 104 spaces.

It is hoped that the college kids will take more of an advantage of the parking lot off Rincon Ave. when they lose these 104 spaces. Not using the Rincon lot is one of few sore points in an otherwise excellent relationship between the college and townspeople.

The students apparently prefer parking on the residential streets.

We acknowledge, as Gene Arnold of the college staff has said, that hot-rodders are at a minimum among the student body. Relatively few complaints have been made about the way the youngsters drive.

It's how and where they park that raises the hackles.

We hope, along with the plagued residents in the college area, that next year the college students can get "educated" in the use of the Rincon lot.

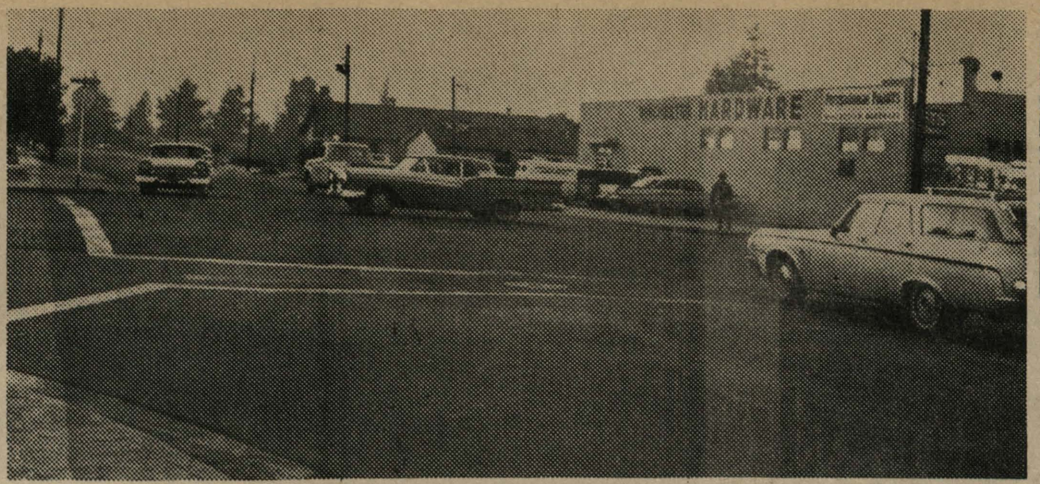
In high school there is "drivers' education." Maybe there should be an advanced course for "parkers' education."

TAKES PART IN KOREAN TRAINING

Army PFC Paul G. Eades, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester B. Eades, 1032 Audrey Ave., Campbell, recently took part in exercise "Flying Tackle," a field training exercise conducted by I Corps units in Korea.

The 18-year-old soldier, a radio teletype operator in the 59th Aviation Company, entered the Army in October 1964 and completed basic combat training at Fort Polk, La.

He is a 1964 graduate Campbell Union High School.



NEEDS A SIGNAL?-- Campbell City Council members are now pondering the perplexing question of whether a traffic signal is needed at Winchester-Rincon intersection. Although the traffic survey that the hazardous condi- the traffic on Rincon is relatively light, many residents still feel that the hazardous conditions that exist warrant a signal. A signal is soon to be installed at Budd and Winchester which may alleviate some of the problems that have existed.

REGAS SPEAKS

Speaking for the signal at Rincon also was Ted Regas who maintained that traffic counts alone should not be the sole basis for a signal.

He claimed the city should be more interested and more protective of the local traffic than the onrushing through traffic on Winchester.

Prior to the discussion on the intersections, Wren reviewed the traffic surveys that had been conducted which indicated that Rincon Ave. carried relatively little traffic and that the "waiting period" averaged only 30 seconds, at the morning peak traffic period ranging from three seconds to 75 seconds and in the evening period the waiting ranged from three seconds to 118 seconds or an average of 36 seconds.

TRAFFIC COUNT

Wren revealed also that Winchester Blvd. was carrying 22,000 cars per day while W. Rincon carried 1900 and E. Rincon 1700.

In a startling bit of traffic statistical information, Wren reported that during the peak period while Winchester Blvd. was carrying 2500 cars, W. Rincon was carrying 64 cars and the same number on E. Rincon. Of these cars on the side streets, 40 turned right which presented no problem.

Thus, Wren concluded a traffic signal would have helped only 191 cars compared to the 2500 that were using Winchester at the same time.

Councilman Ralph Doetsch, who initiated the discussion of the traffic lights at the council meeting, maintained that it was necessary to use other factors in deciding where a signal should go than traffic counts and surveys.

In the final action on the traffic signal situation, the council directed Stephens to see if he could find the $8000.

If and when the money can be "found," the council then will decide where the signal should go after weighing a report on the entire situation by Wren.

It could go at Winchester and Rincon.

Then again, it might not.

City Hall briefs

In another lengthy session lasting until 1:30 a.m. Tuesday, the City Council:

--PASSED the ordinance allowing Topaz Builders to build a shopping center at Hacienda and San Tomas in a sort of anti-climatic action. Four council members had indicated they favored when the ordinance was given its first reading at a previous meeting.

Voting for it were Councilmen Bill Smeed, Ed Rogers, Ralph Doetsch and Homer Hyde. Opposed was Mayor Charles Rose. Residents of the San Tomas area who had faithfully followed the up and down progress of the center over many months, were in the audience and applauded the final approval of the ordinance.

--APPROVED the recommendation of the Planning Commission which asked that a planning consultant be obtained to work on advanced planning and to obtain federal assistance. A committee headed by Councilman Hyde and composed of Councilman Rogers, Commissioners Thayer Lyons and Jim Tomlinson, City Manager Bob Stephens and Planning Director Dick Hogan was appointed to set up the program.

--GAVE FIRST READING to the much maligned and much discussed so-called gas station control ordinance. Indications were, however, that at the final reading there will be opposition to the new ordinance by some councilmen. The ordinance basically limits service stations to two four-lane streets or in a shopping centers.

--DIRECTED the city engineer to inspect the camphor trees on the property of H. Meger, at 226 Bland, and make recommendations. Meger has requested that the trees be removed because they were giving too much shade and nothing could grow under them. Council members, always friendly toward trees and opposed to their removal, suggested that thinning them might be the answer.

--ENDORSED the Planning Commission action that opposed a drive-in theater proposed for the Scorsur property off McGlincey Lane in county territory.

--CONTINUED until the next meeting action on the approval of the tentative subdivision map of Leep Homes to allow proposed changes to be taken up at the next Planning Commission meeting.

--APPROVED a four-way stop sign at Central and Payne avenues as requested by residents in the area. It has been pointed out that Central Ave. has become one of the secondary streets used by many to get to San Jose.

--DISCUSSED what should be considered in Phase II of the San Tomas Expressway project, particularly emphasizing the need for pedestrian overpasses.

--HEARD William T. Ellis, this area's representative on the Economic Opportunity Commission, explain the infighting that is taking place by groups attempting to gain control of the administration of the program.

--APPROVED the completion of the corporation yard but voiced concern over the need for landscaping and showed interest over the extra cost of the project which some of the councilmen thought was to be done by city personnel.

--APPROVED City Manager Bob Stephens accepting the appointment to the finance administration committee for the League of California Cities.

--DIRECTED Mayor Rose to recommend a suitable memorial to the late Judge John Blaine, a pioneer Campbell resident.

--ACCEPTED the resignation of Robert R. Walker from the appeal board of the city.

--APPROVED the employment of Herbert J. Pruitt, engineering aide ($528); Donald J. Perkins, fireman ($555); Ronald Ferguson, park maintenance ($1.50 per hour) and Joseph F. Lipari, crossing guard ($1.90) per hour).

P.T.A. Council sets goal of 50 Yule baskets

Preparations for Christmas food baskets for needy families in the Campbell area have been underway for the past several months by the El Paradiso Council, Sixth District, California Congress of Parents and Teachers. The elementary schools and junior high schools in the Moreland District and Campbell Elementary School District are all having individual canned goods drives to provide the necessary assortment of canned goods and staples. Mrs. Jack Lucier is president of El Paradiso Council and directing plans for the baskets in this area.

Last year 32 families were provided with food baskets and this year the Council hopes to provide food baskets for 50 families in the Campbell area. The food depot for all canned goods and staples will be at the Castro Junior High School cafetorium. There is a need for canned milk, baby foods, and fresh apples, oranges and sacks of potatoes, to supplement the food baskets. Some schools have also forwarded cash to help purchase turkeys, but the required quota has only been reached by 50 percent. Local organizations or interested persons wishing to help are invited to make donations payable to El Paradiso Council, care of Mrs. Charles Simms, Financial Secretary, 5123 Elmwood Dr., San Jose, Calif., or call Mrs. Lucier at 243-0862 after 4 p.m.

Families needing assistance have been referred by school nurses who turn work with the Volunteer Bureau. Registration of needy families in this area will be held Dec. 15 and 16 at the Fire Station on Doyle Road and Saratoga Ave. between 10 and 12 and 1 to 3 p.m. Toys for children are also being provided by Cub Scouts, Volunteer Bureau, and Blackford High School students. This is another project of El Paradiso Council PTA and the joint community spirit and cooperation from all three school districts in this area.

Puppet show enjoyed by Campbell Garden Club

The Campbell Garden Club presented their annual Christmas tea last Wednesday afternoon in the Fireside Room of the Congregational Church. Mrs. Minnie Snyder, president, presided at the tea table which was attractively decorated with a pointsettia arrangement. Assisting her were Mesdames Joseph Aversente, Fred H. Smith and Merrill Mack, past presidents.

A demonstration of glass and floral arrangements was given by Mrs. A. F. Leal, a member of the club.

Highlight of the afternoon was a puppet show entitled "The Night Before Christmas" presented by the Camp Belles Junior Garden Club. The script for the puppet show was Miss Cheryl Pereira, a San Jose State College student.

The Camp Belles Junior Garden Club is comprised of 26 Girl Scouts of Troop 603 of St. Lucy's School. In addition to their affiliation with Girl Scouts they are also Junior Garden Club members sponsored by the local garden club. Mrs. Lee Aversente is their Garden Club leader and Mrs. Roger Hernandez is the Girl Scout Counselor.

The girls made the puppets and props and provided the music and dialogue for the puppet show which was greatly enjoyed by the membership.

Benefit show for children

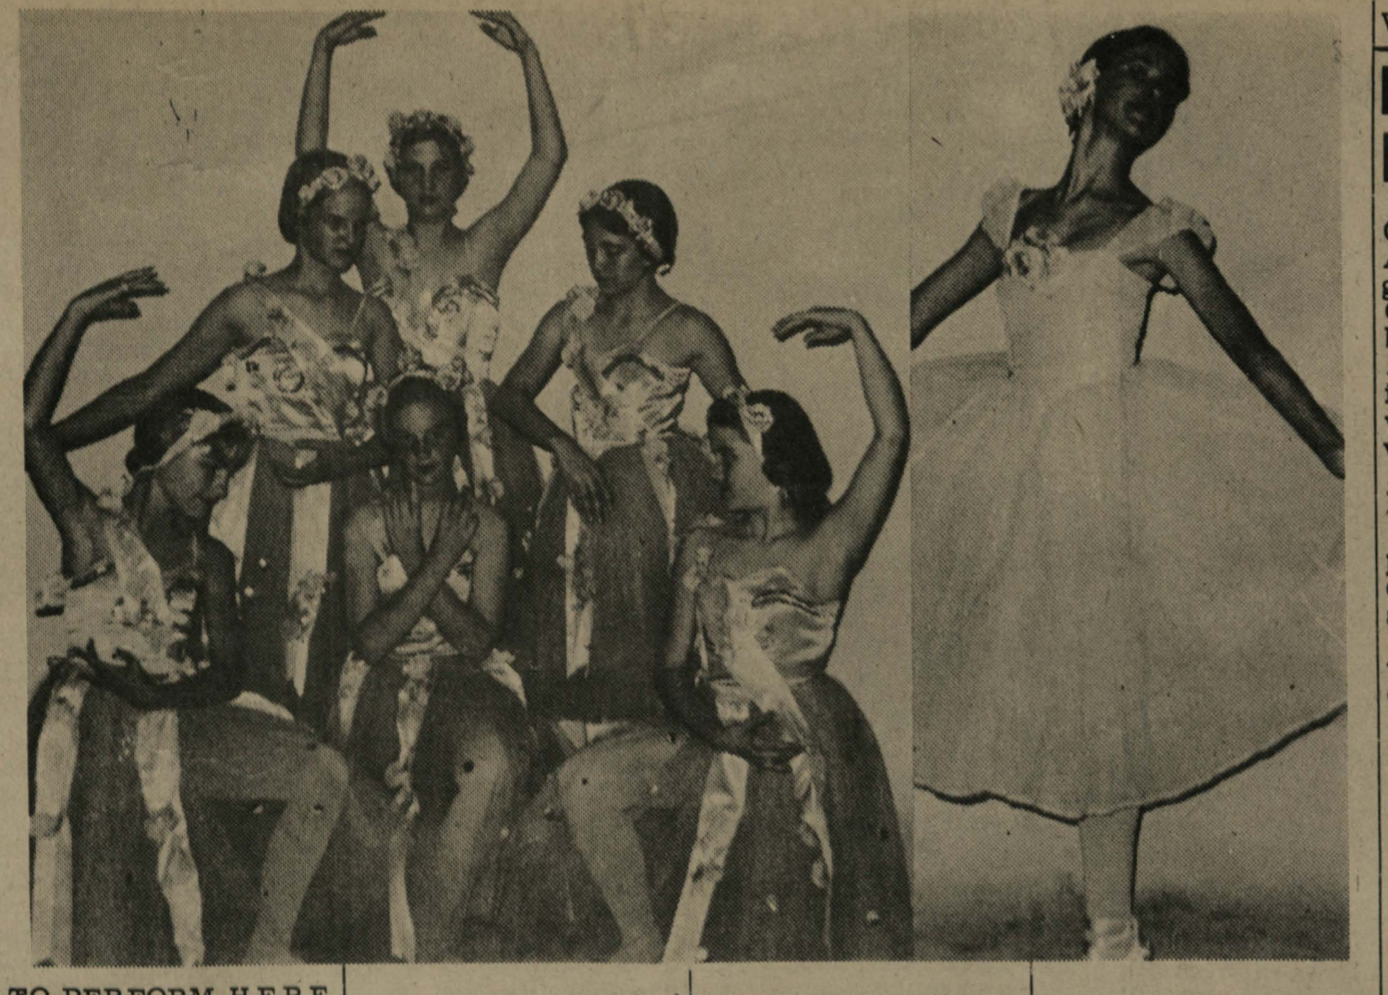
New Books at the Campbell Library

THE HUSTLER'S HANDBOOK
by Bill Veeck with Ed Linn

The co-authors of Veeck - As in Wreck, hailed by many as the most wonderful baseball book ever written, are off again on another inside ramble through the bazarre world of the diamond. Bill Veeck, hustler par excellence, has a seemingly bottomless well of stories, anecdotes and theories and is never afraid to speak his mind.

BOURGEOIS ANONYMOUS,
A novel by Morris Philipson.

A novel novel of high comedy, and satire on love among the intellectuals. But it is also a sophisticated, zany spoof of our popular preconceptions, and a high-spirited lampoon of the ways in which we live despite them.



TO PERFORM HERE THIS WEEK-END-- These lovely young ballet dancers will present a program at West Valley College this week-end. Appearing as candy flowers from the Palace of Sweets are (left to right) Margaret Benson, Julie Miller, Brita Tryggvi, and kneeling, Deborah Wettstein, Trina Lund, and Susan Cody. - 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat vigorously until mixture begins to hold its shape. Add marshmallow creme; beat til fudge becomes very thick and starts to lose its gloss. Quickly stir in cherries and spread in buttered shallowed pan or small platter. Score in squares while warm, cut when firm.

Top athletes get awards at college banquet

At West Valley College's recent annual Fall Sports Banquet the presentation was made of seven trophies to outstanding Viking athletes from the football, cross country, and water polo teams.

Dr. Bruce Ogilvie, a psychology professor at San Jose State College, was the guest speaker.

The award for the most inspirational player on the football team went to Mike Cowan, whom Head Coach Bob Jones said "had to be our most outstanding player."

Freshman Earl Freitas won the trophy as outstanding back while Fred Falk was given the Tom Huelsman Award as the outstanding lineman. The most improved player award went to freshman Ken Ayers. All-League plaques were awarded to Cowan and Carrothers.

John Burr of the cross country team was named the outstanding freshman runner and was also named captain for next year's team. Ben Rogers, the Vikings number one runner of the year, was honored as the outstanding sophomore.

Ken Lay was chosen captain of the water polo team and Carter Smith was named as the most outstanding player.

Fire department's holiday check-list

1. Make a wise choice when selecting your Christmas Tree. Choose a small tree instead of a large one. A small tree can be just as pretty and it's less of a hazard.
2. Evergreen, cedar, balsam or pine, keep the tree outdoors until you are ready to install it.
3. Remember, your tree will look the freshest if you don't install it until just before Christmas.
4. Radiator heat isn't good for trees. Set the tree up in the coolest part of the room, away from radiators, heaters and fireplaces.
5. You should stand the tree in water to retard drying.
6. Care should be used in selecting decorations. Use fireproof decorations of glass or metal, never cotton or paper unless they are flameproof.
7. Hint to father or junior; Don't set up electric trains around or near the tree.
8. Regarding tree lighting, use electric lights-never candles, inspect every light socket and wire to make sure set is in good condition. Discard lighting sets with frayed wiring. When buying new sets, look for tag or label showing listing by Underwriter's Laboratories, Inc.
9. Incidently, provide a switch at some distance from the tree for turning tree lights on and off.
10. Should you desire to save some of your gift wrappings, fold them neatly for later use. Other gift wrappings should be discarded safely and promptly after presents are opened.
11. This is important: Don't leave Christmas decoration lights burning when away from home.
12. Make an inspection of the tree from time to time to see whether any of the needles near the lights have started to turn brown. If so, change the position of the lights.
13. And when needles start falling, take the tree down and discard it outdoors.
14. Stick to these rules and you will keep Christmas merry.

Tom Perry heads city M.O.D. drive

--heads drive

E. Tom Perry, a faculty member at West Valley College, will assume the responsibility of directing the January March of Dimes in Campbell, according to Robert Trefry, county director.

This will be the first March of Dimes position for Perry, but he is well known for his activities as a community volunteer. He is a member of the Campbell Planning Commission and serves on the board of directors of the West Valley Historical Society.

He is in the business division at West Valley.

Funds raised by the March of Dimes are used to support the birth defects program of the National Foundation. The three-way program is organized to concentrate on research, education and care.

"I am very happy to welcome Mr. Perry as an able man and the cause which we support is worthy. That combination augurs well for success."

The March of Dimes was originally organized to combat poliomyelitis. After development of Salk and Sabin vaccines, the effort was turned to the broader field of birth defects.

College board chairman voices disappontment in court ruling

Robert Brydon, chairman of the governing board of West Valley College, voiced disappointment over the recent Supreme Court decision denying the district's petition to use $671,000 for capital expenditures.

Brydon added that the decision will in no way affect the excellent instructional program currently offered by the college but that the district will be working with $671,100 less than anticipated.

On Dec. 6, the Supreme Court ruled that the $671,000 which C. R. Timpany, county school superintendent, had previously transferred from the district's general fund to a restricted tuition fund could not be used for capital expenditures.

In hs

In his statement, Brydon said:

"Naturally we are extremely disappointed over the Court's decision in this matter. In bringing the case to adjudication the West Valley Governing Board believed the wording of the Education Code Section in question allowed the interpretation which they gave it. In this interpretation they were supported by both the Santa Clara County Counsel's office and the California Attorney General. The Board also believed the best interests of the college and the district's taxpayers would be served by their point of view. Dr. Timpany believed otherwise and the Court has upheld his contention."

"The West Valley Junior College District will move ahead as usual with all means of furthering our long range capital construction plan which provides for ultimate construction of three campuses to serve the needs of the West Valley Junior College District. The only difference is that we have been impeded by the Court's ruling in the amount of $671,000."

LIVING CHRISTMAS TREE

Popular idea for the growing-up family these days is a real live Christmas tree, according to the California Association of Nurserymen. The kids are beginning to give up size status in favor of living status when boasting a little among friends.

The beauty of the live tree is that it quickly becomes a member of the family. It can be planted in a tub, moved in during the holidays, then spend a happy life outdoors on the deck or in the patio for the rest of the year! If it should get too big to move around, the tree can be set in the garden and lighted during the Christmas season for the pleasure of family and neighborhood.

Choose your tree to fit your family's requirements. Shape, rate of growth and original cost are the the guiding factors. Top favorites are members of the spruce family, slow-growing and very symmetrical.

There are three foliage colors available - plain green, glossy blue (called a "shiner") and blue-green. These are all members of the Colorado Spruce tribe.

THE NORWAY SPRUCE is just a shade faster growing, usually very much on the symmetrical side and admirably adapted for a living Christmas tree. The needles are dark green. The Engelmann Spruce has needles that are bluish in tone.

Our native SIERRA WHITE FIR, when grown in the nursery, makes a fine symmetrical tree with a moderate growth rate. It is inclined to be "chunky", about as broad as tall when young. The needles are green to blue-green, longer and flatter than those on the Norway Spruce.

THE CEDARS, DEODAR AND BLUE ATLAS, are faster growing and not so symmetrical in shape, but many are used for Christmas trees. The Deodar is native to the slopes of the Himalayas and has graceful downward-arching branches, a blue cast to the new needles in spring.

The Blue Atlas Cedar comes from the mountains of North Africa and has stiffly horizontal branches, drooping with age. The needles are a sparkling blue-green. Growth of the cedars is about twice to three times the rate of spruces and firs.

Some of the pines make good Christmas trees and are fairly regular in branching habit. One is the Scotch Pine, with medium-long needles and a moderately fast growth rate.

Another is the densely-branched Japanese Table Pine, a variety that produces cones on very small trees. People who want irregularity, rather than symmetry, in their trees will choose the Japanese Black Pine.

Whichever tree your family chooses, give it expert planting treatment. Your nurseryman will help you select a handsome redwood tub or ceramic planter in which to grow your tree.

The small additional planting charge is well worth the expense. If you wish to do the planting yourself, spurn your own garden soil in favor of the planting mix recommended by your nurseryman.

Remember that display indoors means a greater rate of moisture loss. You will want to test the topsoil with your finger tips daily

Social Security expands office hours in S. J.

The San Jose Social Security Office will be open Thursday nights until 7:30 p.m. and Saturday mornings 8:30 to 12:30, through December.

"We are staying open Thursday nights and Saturday mornings to accommodate the more than 5,000 workers in this county over 65 years of age who have never filed for social security benefits," John J. Cassidy, district manager, said.

In prior years, according to Cassidy, it made little difference if workers over 65 filed for social security benefits. Now, however, with the limited enrollment period under the new Medical Insurance Program, it is important that everyone file on reaching age 65.

For people now 65 or over, the medical insurance enrollment period ends March 31, 1966, and applications for enrollment must be filed by this date. The next enrollment period will not begin until October 1967.

Cassidy urges all workers 65 or over who have never filed for social security or railroad retirement benefits to contact the office at 1010 The Alameda, San Jose.

If you cannot come into the office, even with the Thursday evening and Saturday morning hours, you should call 286-2525 and discuss other filing arrangements.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Gladstone A. Boquist

Q. I used to work in a market, but now I operate my own farm. My previous employer reported my wages for social security purposes every three months. Do I report the wages paid to my hired man every three months?

A. No. Where agricultural wages are concerned, you make your report and pay the tax only once a year, and this is done in January. You may obtain the reporting form from the Internal Revenue Service, along with instructions for its completion.

Q. I recently opened a business and hired two clerks. When do I start making social security reports?

A. Your quarterly report must be made by the end of the month following the end of the quarter. Calendar quarters end on the last day of March, June, September and December. Your report for the present calendar quarter will be due in October.

Supervisors change boundary lines of districts in county

Redistricting action on the part of the county Board of Supervisors last week left Campbell mostly in Supervisor Ralph Mehrken's fourth district. However, Supervisor Sam Della Maggiore will have that part of the city that lies east of Highway 17.

Mehrkens, in the reshuffling, lost the City of Cupertino and Monta Vista to Supervisor Martin Spangler of the the fifth district.

Board Chairman Sig Sanchez of the first district gave up Saratoga to Mehrkens but retained Los Gatos and Monte Sereno. Sanchez also acquired Cambrian, and agricultural areas in south and east San Jose which tie in with his home south county area of Morgan Hill and Gilroy.

The lineup of areas, their populations and percentages:

1ST DISTRICT, SANCHEZ - Gilroy, San Martin, Morgan Hill, Los Gatos, Monte Sereno, Cambrian, Edenvale, Almaden. 143,000 persons, 17 per cent.

2ND DISTRICT, DELLA MAGGIORE - San Jose City core and Evergreen, 168,000 and 20 per cent.

3RD DISTRICT, QUINN - Milpitas, Berryessa, Agnew, Alviso, Sunnyvale and east San Jose. 156,000; 18 per cent.

4TH DISTRICT, MEHRKENS - Santa Clara, Campbell, west San Jose, Saratoga. 182,000; 22 per cent.

5 TH DISTRICT, SPANGLER - Palo Alto, Mountain View, Los Altos Hills, Cupertino, Monta Vista; 194,000; 23 per cent.

Pacific Telephone county tax installment tops $6.5 million

Pacific Telephone has paid Santa Clara County the first installment of a $6,664,464.51 property tax bill, according to local manager, Lee Sicard.

The first installment this year amounted to $3,332,232.26. A check for most of that amount ($3,265,541.81) was delivered to Louis A. Lopes, Santa Clara County tax collector.

The second installment for the same amount will be paid next April.

This year's tax is $52[illegible]7,041.64 more than a year ago, an increase of 8.[illegible]6 per cent. It is up $2,7[illegible]35,944 over five years ago, an increase of 69.[illegible]6 per cent.

Of the installment paid, [illegible] taxes for general county, school and special district purposes amounted to $2,862,6[illegible]40.96. Lopes also accepted city taxes for Alviso, $282.29; Campbell, $6,057.96; Cupertino, $1,562.74; Gilroy, $[illegible]534.20; Los Altos, $6[illegible],576.13; Los Altos Hills, $326.05; Los Gatos, $640.35; Milpitas, $8,354.08; Morgan Hill, $1,182.91; Mountain View, $28,589.43; San Jose, $250,413.09; Santa Clara, $45[illegible],859.46; Saratoga, $3[illegible]80.17; and Sunnyvale, $[illegible]52,141.99. Palo Alto collected its own tax [illegible] of $52,783.12.

Once again, Pacific Telephone is the largest property taxpayer in the state. The company's total property tax bill in California for fiscal 1965-66 will be $120 million, up $5.4 million or 4.7 per cent over last year and $38.7 million or 48 per cent over five years ago.

BLACKFORD BEAT

BY DIANE GIPSON CAROL COOK

There are only a few days left until school will be out and the Blackford students are awaiting the Christmas Holidays anxiously. The last day of school before the vacation will be Friday, Dec. 17.

The annual Christmas Dance was held in the Cafetorium last Friday, Dec. 10. The dress was semi-formal. It was the most important student body dance of the year. The Jaguars, a local group, provided the entertainment.

Last Wednesday, the Boy's Fall Sports Banquet was held in the Cafetorium at 7:30 p.m. Many deserving athletes were honored. It was a big success for everyone.

It looks as though Blackford's basketball team is as powerful as ever. They beat Willow Glen last Friday night in a non-league game by a score of 43-35. Dennis Awtrey scored 16 points, Ron Green scored 11 and Doug Bowser scored 12 points. Keep up the good work boys!

Lastly, the American Field Society is currently sponsoring a candy drive. The profits from the sales will go to support foreign exchange students at Blackford.

Various other clubs are helping with the sale.

WARRIOR WAYS

BY LYNDA WYCKOFF

Westmont's annual Christmas dance will be held on Dec. 17 in the cafetorium.

So far Westmont's basketball team is undefeated. All Friday games will be held at night in the large gym unless we are playing at another school. Let's all turn out to support the best team ever!

Student Government Day and Dress-Up Day were a big success! Almost everyone dressed in their Sunday best. We hope to make this an annual affair.

WARRIOR OF THE WEEK MICHAEL SLAVIT

Mike Slavit is the Speech and Debate Coach at Westmont. A native of Chicago, Illinois, he joined the US Army after graduating from high school. He later attended San Diego City College where he was student body president and was very active in student affairs. He was also president of Alpha Phi Omega fraternity. He was elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities for 1962-63.

Slavit plans to be married next spring.

Mr. Slavit says he plans to continue teaching in high school. His big dream is to win the National Speech and Debate Championship for his school. His favorite hobbies are singing and he enjoys working with musical groups. He often performs at Westmont parties and dances. About Westmont, Mr. Slavit says, "I have never seen a group of students as interested in creating an atmosphere condusive to learning as we have here at Westmont." He also stated, "It is fortunate to be able to work with what I feel are the greatest students in the school, the 56 members of the Westmont Speech and Debate Team."

BUC BANTER

BY MARY KNOWLES

"Gloria Patri et Filio..." was one of the beautiful sounds heard last Friday night at the San Jose Civic Auditorium when eleven area A Cappella Choirs combined and presented the 32nd annual A Cappella Choir Festival. The Campbell High School Choir sang "Still, Still, Still," an Austrian carol, and "Kolyada," a Russian carol.

The Campbell High School band took first place in Los Gatos' Christmas Parade. Congratulations for a job well-done.

Campbell's traditional Christmas program will be presented tonight, Dec. 15, at 8 p.m.

Featured will be the String Orchestra, Symphony Orchestra, and A Cappella Choir under the direction of Lawrence McCommas, and the Brass Choir under the direction of William Perkins.

"Our Miss Brooks and the Christmas Carol," a one-act play will be presented by the Drama Department.

The Campbell High School P.T.A. cordially invites everyone to attend.

Senior students taking Comparative Government classes have been doing interesting things lately. Mr. Bell's section of the class has set on a giant task. The students are to take the city of Campbell as it is today and plan its future through 1975. Various committees have been formed to consider the problems that our city faces and to do something about them.

The effects of this "Campbell Planning Committee" has been felt in City Hall as the students of our Government classes headed by Mr. Bell, dig for information to fortify the reports of their various committees. As many as twenty students have descended upon the city hall of our fair town at one time.

If the plans and schemes of the various committees are adopted, in a few years, Campbell may be the most efficiently run city in the United States.

"The attitude and enthusiasm of the students is most encouraging for a successful year," remarked Larry Mc Commas about this year's Mixed Chorus.

The Mixed Chorus is a training grounds for Choir without all of the noise and confusion of past years. Beginning next year no one will be allowed in A Cappella Choir without at least one year of singing experience.

Girl scouts

Santa Clara County Girl Scouts Neighborhood 12, which includes all the schools in the Union School District, held their annual Christmas Song Fest in the Leigh High School auditorium. Nearly 600 Girl Scouts of all age levels participated. Admission was a can of food which will be distributed to needy families. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program.

The new Senior Girl Scout Troop No. 8, Senior Troop No. 15 and Boy Scouts Post No. 357 pooled their resources and talents to have a Christmas Ball on Dec. 10. Each member brought a toy which will be presented to "Toys for Tots". Cadette Troop No. 13 has a year round bake sale. They make beautiful birthday cakes, cookies, fudge and party mix. Anyone interested may call their baking chairman, Mrs. Ralph Lemon, 264-8354 for further information. The troop is also going caroling with Boy Scout Troop No. 375 of Rosemary School. Following the caroling the group will have a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Aubrey of Amber Drive.

Warriors lose to Cupertino

After three straight exhibition victories, Westmont was dropped from the undefeated ranks by previously winless (0-2) Cupertino 65-50, at Cupertino, Dec. 10. The Warriors, who engage in the Mountain View Tournament Dec. 14-16, tallied 10 straight points after falling behind 6-0, and then battled Cupertino on pretty even terms until the second half when they succumbed to the Vikings' fine shooting and tremendous board play. Mike McGory got 44 rebounds and 22 points for the winners.

Three days prior to the Cupertino affair, Westmont pummeled badly outmanned Homestead 53-38, with the homecourt advantage. The Warriors were in command all the way, and were sparked by guard Roy Grillo's hot outside shooting early in the first period. Grillo led the scorers with 15 points.

Joining Westmont's Varsity was WVAL representatives at Mountain View will be Saratoga.

College buys 32 acres for campus

West Valley College governing board has approved purchase of 32 additional acres of its campus site in the southeast corner of Fruitvale and Allendale avenues in Saratoga, bringing the total purchases to just under 100 acres.

The board approved payment of $360,626 for 31.97 acres and dwellings owned by Martin A. Charles of 19150 Gardner Ln. The purchase brings the total acquired to 97.098 acres, or 67.7 percent of the 143-acre total.

At the board meeting R. E. Arnold, dean of plant facilities, summarized the total per acre costs to date.

So far a total of $1,154,300 has been expended, Dean Arnold said. Of this amount, $100,280 represents appraised valuation of all the buildings on the various parcels, leaving a net of $1,054,020 for land alone, or an average of $10,850 an acre.

All of the district's site south of Gardner Lane has now been purchased except for one three-acre parcel, Arnold said.

Cub Scouts

Pack 317

A new Cub Scout Pack has been formed under the sponsorship of the Coventry Home and School Club. Pack 317 held its first pack meeting on Dec. 3. Cubmaster Bill Hoff conducted the meeting.

The meeting opened with Den 3 leading the flag salute. After the introduction of the committee, the Cub Scouts sang Christmas Carols while they placed their donations of canned food for a needy family under the Christmas tree.

The highlight of the evening was the induction of 29 Bobcats into Pack 317, Sherman Amsel, David Bates, David Bruntz, Joseph Bruntz, Ronnie Christopher, Robert and Rodney Dailey, Joey Flores, Ricky Hubbell, John Howard, Gerald Holme, Paul Hoff, Kevin Jackson, James Jacovides, Kevin Klein, Ronnie Leischner, Deryl Lien, Timmy Lohr, Raymond McElroy, Steven Onishi, Lee Puthuff, David Stein, Larry Stuck, Bobbie Thompson, Larry Vaughn, Mark Whittaker, Wayne Widdig, John Wilcox and David Wygal.

The Cub Scouts had a paper drive to raise money to finance the pack activities. We extend hearty thanks and congratulations to Roger Leischner, the chairman of this drive, for the great success of the drive. Approximately 500 tons of paper was collected.

For this drive the winners were Ronnie Leischner, Gerald Holme, Bobbie Thompson and Mark Whittaker. An ice cream treat was awarded to Den 2 for turning in the most footage as a den.

Our next pack meeting will be held on Jan. 7, at Bucknall School.

After a visit from Santa Claus, who gave candy canes to all the children, the colors were retired and the meeting ended. Refreshments were served by the Den Mothers.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

The Sears-Roebuck and Montgomery Ward catalogs, once the only means by which rural America could do its "window shopping", are destined for serious competition--from the United States government.

For almost 100 years the Department of Agriculture has published shopping lists from which citizens could secure Agriculture bulletins, garden seeds, and all sorts of advice. But now with hundreds of federal programs which dispense taxpayers' money via the federal treasury, the catalogs published by several departments of government are becoming thicker and more numerous.

Every state and local government official considers the "Catalog of Federal Aids to State and Local Governments" as required reading. The Commerce Department publishes lists of aid it's prepared to offer, as do the Departments of Interior, Agriculture, Health-Education and Welfare, Labor, and the various housing agencies. The fabulously financed Office of Economic Opportunity spends millions on sales literature showing what it has to offer.

The federal budget lists more than 85 programs which provide grants to state and local governments. In the past decade the cost of these activities has increased from $3.1 billion to $13 billion.

The government issues food stamps, special aid to Appalachia, subsidizes rents, channels money to local school districts and duplicates the functions of those districts with grants to other agencies under the poverty program. Of course, the expensive luxury of price supports on tobacco and peanuts and our basic crops continues at an annual cost in the billions.

As a result of this steadily enlarged federal shopping list, the federal share of total taxes collected now exceeds 70%; state and local governments get less than 15% each.

This steady trend was dramatically brought home to me when a constituent sent me some advertising he had received through the mails. The multi-colored brochure was to advertise a new 1000 page ENCYCLOPEDIA OF U. S. GOVERNMENT BENEFITS and featured a bold headline which read: "See what the Government owes you."

The book was described as "a new encyclopedia which pinpoints every last payment, service, and benefit available for you and your family--a fact filled volume which shows you in minutes how the government can provide thousands of dollars." It then promises that if the book, with its "hundreds of exciting pictures" and list of 10,000 benefits, does not produce "$500 in the purchaser's pocket within one year" it can be returned without charge.

To those who ordered the book before the supply was "exhausted" a free gift in the form of a 23" x 29" treasure map of U.S. benefits was offered which the promoters say is appropriate to hang in your family room or den to pinpoint homestead sites, national forests, and ski resorts.

Receiving such advertisements and realizing that such books would not be published unless people bought them should stimulate some soul searching about just how far we have traveled away from individualism and toward collectivism. Though it may be old fashioned and reactionary to say it, I think the old style mail order catalogs were a lot more fun--and cheaper too!
